Bite 1 – The Risk That Redefined a Life, Josh 2:8-11a

⁸ Before they had lain down, she came up to them on the roof. ⁹ She said to the men, “I know that Yahweh has given you the land, and that the fear of you has fallen upon us, and that all the inhabitants of the land melt away before you.

¹⁰ For we have heard how Yahweh dried up the water of the Red Sea before you, when you came out of Egypt; and what you did to the two kings of the Amorites, who were beyond the Jordan, to Sihon and to Og, whom you utterly destroyed. ¹¹ As soon as we had heard it, our hearts melted, and there wasn’t any more spirit in any man, because of you: for Yahweh your God, he is God.

Faith comes by hearing—and Rahab proves it. She believed without ever seeing the Red Sea part or the Amorite kings fall. Testimonies of God’s power traveled farther than Israel’s feet, and those stories were enough to birth faith in her heart.

Rahab wasn’t an Israelite. She didn’t grow up in church or know all the laws. But she heard what God had done—and believed it. While others hardened their hearts, she let fear turn into faith. Faith often starts with hearing what God has done—through Scripture, testimonies, or your own past moments with Him.

Reflection Question:

What’s one story (from the Bible or real life) that has strengthened your faith in God?

Bite 2 – When Faith Meets Action, Josh 2:12–14, 17-18

¹² Now therefore, please swear to me by Yahweh, since I have dealt kindly with you, that you also will deal kindly with my father’s house, and give me a true sign; ¹³ and that you will save alive my father, my mother, my brothers, and my sisters, and all that they have, and will deliver our lives from death.”

¹⁴ The men said to her, “Our life for yours, if you don’t talk about this business of ours; and it shall be, when Yahweh gives us the land, that we will deal kindly and truly with you.”

¹⁷ The men said to her, “We will be guiltless of this your oath which you’ve made us to swear.

¹⁸ Behold, when we come into the land, tie this line of scarlet thread in the window which you used to let us down. Gather to yourself into the house your father, your mother, your brothers, and all your father’s household.

Rahab’s temptation was the King and his men, her culture -instead of going with what she knew, she went with what was right. It wasn’t the popular choice, but it was a life changing one! Rahab didn’t just believe; she made a covenant. The scarlet rope became a sign: when judgment came, her house would be marked by faith and spared.

Her faith wasn’t passive; it was tied to obedience.

Author's Testimony

Rahab's scarlet rope wasn't magic; it was her decision to trust God over her surroundings. Standing your ground takes boldness. You might feel scared, and that's fine—move anyway! I remember in school when everyone planned to ditch class for a party. The pressure to follow the crowd was heavy, but I heard a 'voice' say, 'Don't go.' That was God. We must spot those spiritual lifelines so we can stay safe, even when everyone else is heading the wrong way.

Reflection Question:

What is one “scarlet rope” in your life—a visible step of obedience that shows you're trusting God?

Bite 3 – Faith That Rewrites the Future, Josh 6:22–23, 25 (paraphrased)

²²Joshua said... “Go into the prostitute’s house, and bring out from there the woman, and all that she has, as you swore to her.” ²⁴So the young men... brought out Rahab, her father, her mother, her brothers, and all that she had... ²⁵ Joshua saved Rahab... and she lives in the middle of Israel to this day...

Rahab's faith saved her whole household. While we could be tempted to ‘park it right there’ ...on the fact that she made sure her whole family benefited and avoided selfish acts...her story doesn't stop but transitions from there! Later, she would be included in the family line that led to Jesus. Not bad for someone everyone else would have written off.

God can take a life marked by shame and rewrite it with purpose. Faith doesn't erase your past—but it invites God to redeem it. Lifelines aren't for a moment, it can be the shift, the break the new path you never knew you needed. Rahab didn't look back at the rumble, at her old life at any leverage she built from what she did in the past, she left it where it belonged in her-story. Your past doesn't define you. Nor your present confine you, allow God to refine you and show you what life is like in Him.

Reflection Question:

Who might be saved, inspired, or transformed by your act of faith today?

Dessert – Faith That Didn’t Wait, Heb 11:31

“By faith, Rahab the prostitute didn’t perish with those who were disobedient, having received the spies in peace.”

Rahab could’ve waited until things were safer, clearer, or more convenient-but procrastination had one problem-there was no guarantee. Instead, she moved when God gave her the chance. There is no perfect or “good” or “ideal” time to accept salvation, the best time is NOW.

God didn’t highlight Rahab’s past to shame her but to magnify His grace. Her label didn’t stop her legacy. Faith rewrote her ending—and it can rewrite yours too.

Youth Check-in

Finish this sentence: “God, I don’t want to wait until it’s safe to obey You. Help me to _____.”

To-Go Box

- Faith can start in unexpected places and people.
 - Hearing what God has done can lead you to trust what He’s doing now.
 - Your history does not disqualify you; your response to God’s invitation defines you.

Prayer

“Lord, thank You for Rahab’s courage and for showing me that You can use anyone who trusts You. Help me listen when You speak, obey even when it feels risky, and believe that You can rewrite my story and my family’s story. In Jesus’ name, amen.”

Personal Prayer Space

Write a short prayer asking God to grow your courage and faith like Rahab’s:

Activity – True or False: Rahab’s Faith

Read each statement and circle T for True or F for False.

1. Rahab was an Israelite woman raised in a godly home. T / F
2. The scarlet rope was a sign of the agreement between Rahab and the spies. T / F
3. Rahab’s actions showed both faith in God and concern for her family. T / F
4. Rahab’s faith only affected her, not anyone else. T / F
5. Rahab is later mentioned in the family line of Jesus. T / F

BM3 — Lesson 2: Abigail

Wisdom on the Move

Theme: Faith & Foresight

Background Text: 1 Samuel 25:2–35

Key Verse: Proverbs 15:1 (WEB)

“A gentle answer turns away wrath, but a harsh word stirs up anger.”

Wisdom in motion: faith that chooses peace over pride.

Appetizer – The Courage to Step In, 1 Sam 25:18–20

¹⁸ Then Abigail hurried and took two hundred loaves of bread, two containers of wine, five sheep ready dressed, five seahs^[a] of parched grain, one hundred clusters of raisins, and two hundred cakes of figs, and laid them on donkeys. ¹⁹ She said to her young men, “Go on before me. Behold, I am coming after you.” But she didn’t tell her husband, Nabal. ²⁰ As she rode on her donkey, and came down hidden by the mountain, behold, David and his men came down toward her, and she met them.

David was angry because Nabal had insulted him and refused to help. Recognizing how foul her husband behaved, Abigail stepped in quickly to bring food, humility, and peace before things got violent. Abigail didn’t wait for someone else to fix it. She saw danger coming and moved with wisdom and courage, this is called intercession or prevention or de-escalation.

Abigail didn’t wait for permission to do what was right. She used foresight—seeing danger ahead and acting to prevent disaster. Her faith wasn’t just belief; it was movement toward peace.

Reflection Question:

Have you ever seen drama or conflict building and wished someone would step in with wisdom? What did you do?

Main Course

Bite 1 – The Foolishness of Nabal, 1 Sam 25:10–11, 14, 17

¹⁰ Nabal answered David’s servants and said, “Who is David? Who is the son of Jesse? There are many servants who break away from their masters these days. ¹¹ Shall I then take my bread, my water, and my meat that I have killed for my shearers, and give it to men who I don’t know where they come from?”

¹⁴ But one of the young men told Abigail, Nabal’s wife, saying, “Behold, David sent messengers out of the wilderness to greet our master; and he insulted them. ¹⁷ Now therefore know and consider what you will do; for evil is determined against our master and against all his house, for he is such a worthless fellow that one can't speak to him."

Nabal's arrogance created a dangerous situation. His pride didn't just affect him—it put his whole household at risk. Nabal's servants quickly pulled up the 'receipts,' recalling exactly how David and his men had been a wall of protection for them and the flock. Even with the facts on the table, Nabal's ego was too loud for him to recognize David's kindness or judge the moment correctly.

His arrogance—that 'better than everyone else' attitude—blinded him to the fact that doing right by David's men wasn't just a suggestion; it was a requirement. It's a powerful lesson for us: someone else's foolishness can trigger a storm you didn't ask for, but even then, you can still choose wisdom and change the forecast.

Reflection Question:

When have you seen someone's pride or anger make things worse for everyone around them?

Bite 2 – Put the Blame on Me, 1 Sam 25:23-24, 28

²³ When Abigail saw David, she hurried and got off her donkey, and fell before David on her face and bowed herself to the ground. ²⁴ She fell at his feet and said, "On me, my lord, on me be the blame! Please let your servant speak in your ears. Hear the words of your servant.

²⁸ Please forgive the trespass of your servant. For Yahweh will certainly make my lord a sure house, because my lord fights Yahweh's battles. Evil will not be found in you all your days.

Abigail took responsibility for something she didn't do, in order to save lives. She reminded David of his calling and helped him think about his future reputation.

"Standing in the gap isn't about being a doormat; it's about being a shock absorber. It means you care more about God's honor and keeping people safe than about winning a petty argument. An 'Abigail move' can literally save a life—I know because it happened to me.

Author's Testimony

In high school, I had a gun pulled on me just for telling a story that 'triggered' someone. Another teen stepped in—she didn't have to get involved, but she saw the 'glitch' before it crashed everyone's future.

She moved fast, talked him down, and convinced him to put it away. I had to report it, but if it wasn't for my Abigail intercepting that disaster, I wouldn't be here to tell the story. Sometimes God calls you to absorb the tension so the situation doesn't explode."

Reflection Questions:

What does it mean to “stand in the gap” for someone? When is it wise to step in—and when might it be unsafe?

Bite 3 – A Wise Outcome, 1 Sam 25:32–33, 35

³² David said to Abigail, “Blessed is Yahweh, the God of Israel, who sent you today to meet me! ³³ Blessed is your discretion, and blessed are you, who have kept me today from blood guiltiness, and from avenging myself with my own hand.

³⁵ So David received from her hand that which she had brought him. Then he said to her, “Go up in peace to your house. Behold, I have listened to your voice and have granted your request.”

David calmed down. The fight stopped before it ever started. Abigail’s actions saved her household and kept David from making a choice he’d regret. Hallelujah, praise the Lord he listened to reason.

One wise, humble conversation can stop a lot of damage.

Reflection Question:

Think of a time when you calmed a situation down—or wish you had. What would wisdom look like next time?

Dessert – When God Handles It, 1 Sam 25:38–39

³⁸ About ten days later, Yahweh struck Nabal, so that he died. ³⁹ When David heard that Nabal was dead, he said, “Blessed is Yahweh, who has pleaded the cause of my reproach from the hand of Nabal, and has kept back his servant from evil. Yahweh has returned the evildoing of Nabal on his own head.”

God handled Nabal in His own time. Abigail’s job wasn’t revenge—it was obedience and wisdom. David had to exercise restraint and to recognize and listen to the wisdom. God did the rest, hallelujah and amen.

Reflection Prompt:

Write one sentence asking God to help you choose wisdom instead of revenge.
