

Breakfast Edition Month 3 - Lesson 1: Rahab

Faith That Took Action

Theme: Courage in the Face of Danger

Background Text: Joshua 2:1–21; 6:22–25

Key Verse: Hebrews 11:31 (WEB)

“By faith, Rahab the prostitute didn’t perish with those who were disobedient, having received the spies in peace.”

Faith that acts before the promise is visible.

Appetizer – The Risk That Redefined a Life, Joshua 2:1, 3–4 (WEB)

“Joshua the son of Nun secretly sent two men out of Shittim as spies, saying, ‘Go, view the land, including Jericho.’ They went and came into the house of a prostitute whose name was Rahab, and slept there.”

“Jericho’s king sent to Rahab, saying, ‘Bring out the men who have come to you, who have entered into your house; for they have come to spy out all the land.’ The woman took the two men, and hid them...”

CST

Rahab’s name shows up differently in Scripture—Rachab in Matthew’s genealogy of Christ and Rahab in the Book of Joshua—but her faith stayed the same. She wasn’t born an Israelite, yet her belief in Israel’s God was strong enough to override her fear of the king.

Faith acted before the promise was visible. She chose courage in the face of death.

Reflection Question

Has your faith ever been tested in a way that demanded courage before you saw the results?

Main Course

Bite 1 – A Faith Born from Hearing, Joshua 2:8–9,11 (WEB)

⁸ Before they had lain down, she came up to them on the roof. ⁹ She said to the men, “I know that Yahweh has given you the land, and that the fear of you has fallen upon us, and that all the inhabitants of the land melt away before you. ¹¹ As soon as we had heard it, our hearts melted, and there wasn’t any more spirit in any man, because of you: for Yahweh your God, he is God in heaven above, and on earth beneath.

CST

Faith comes by hearing—and Rahab proves it. She believed without ever seeing the Red Sea part or the Amorite kings fall. Testimonies of God’s power traveled farther than Israel’s feet, and those stories were enough to birth faith in her heart.

Her belief in a God she had never met was strong enough to inspire obedience in danger.

Reflection Questions

- What promises has God made to you that are not yet fulfilled? What action might He be waiting on from you?

Bite 2 – When Faith Meets Action, Joshua 2:12–13, 18 (WEB)

¹² Now therefore, please swear to me by Yahweh, since I have dealt kindly with you, that you also will deal kindly with my father’s house, and give me a true sign; ¹³ and that you will save alive my father, my mother, my brothers, and my sisters, and all that they have, and will deliver our lives from death.”

¹⁸ Behold, when we come into the land, tie this line of scarlet thread in the window which you used to let us down. Gather to yourself into the house your father, your mother, your brothers, and all your father’s household.

CST

The scarlet rope became a visible sign of an invisible covenant. It wasn’t just a safety signal—it was a prophetic symbol of redemption. Her faith wasn’t passive; it was tied to obedience.

Her decision to hang that rope out the window saved not just her life, but her entire household.

Reflection Question

What “scarlet rope” of obedience have you hung out as proof of your trust in God?

Bite 3 – Faith That Rewrites the Future (Joshua 6:22–23, 25, WEB)

“Joshua said to the two men who had spied out the land, ‘Go into the prostitute’s house, and bring the woman and all that she has out from there, as you swore to her.’”

“The young men who were spies went in, and brought out Rahab, with her father, her mother, her brothers, and all that she had... But Rahab the prostitute, her father’s household, and all that she had, Joshua saved alive. She lives in the middle of Israel to this day, because she hid the messengers whom Joshua sent to spy out Jericho.”

CST

Faith not only saves—it transforms. Rahab went from outcast to insider, from pagan prostitute to part of God’s covenant people, and eventually into the family line of the Messiah Himself. Sometimes, the least likely person carries the greatest impact.

Reflection Question

Who might be saved, inspired, or transformed by your act of faith today?

Dessert – Faith Remembered, Hebrews 11:31 (WEB)

“By faith, Rahab the prostitute, didn’t perish with those who were disobedient, having received the spies in peace.”

Reflection

God didn’t highlight Rahab’s past to shame her but to magnify His grace. Her label didn’t stop her legacy. Faith rewrote her ending—and it can rewrite yours too.

Write one sentence of gratitude to God for giving you a future that’s bigger than your past:

To-Go Box

- Faith hears what God has done and believes what He will do.
- Rahab's courage shows that obedience in a single moment can shift an entire family's destiny.
- Your history does not disqualify you; your response to God's invitation defines you.

Carry this truth:

Faith acts first; foresight trusts God with the outcome.

Don't let fear of judgment, failure, or your past silence your obedience. Like Rahab, your courage today can redeem generations tomorrow.

Author's Testimony

I once faced my own test of faith. I needed funds to remodel a home for veterans in need. Quotes came in as high as $30,000, and my account was empty. But I prayed, “Lord, You know my needs, Jehovah-Jireh, my provider.” Within a week, God sent two unexpected renters who paid exactly $12,000—the remaining amount I needed to complete the work.

Faith made a way I could not see. Like Rahab, I learned that obedience, no matter how small, can open doors for God's miraculous provision. Father, help each reader to boldly break away from things that are holding them back and embrace the opportunities to grow in your and walk into their purpose, in Jesus name amen. 🙏
