Introduction – The Art of Through

“The LORD is my shepherd; I shall not want.” — Psalm 23:1 (KJV)

Many times in life, we feel stuck. It might be at the starting line, or right in the messy middle. At times, it feels like our feet are chained to invisible blocks buried deep in the ground. No matter how much we want to move forward, something holds us in place.

This month’s lessons are designed to walk us through stories of people who faced real adversity—but didn’t give up. From Joseph in the pit, to Hannah in her barrenness, to Abram caught between promise and fulfillment, to those who pushed through crowds and pain for a touch from Jesus—each one shows us the art of through.

You don’t need to be a pro, a priest, or a “seasoned saint” to make it through hard seasons. You just need determination, honest faith, and a willingness to keep walking with God when giving up would be easier.

Everyone has a story. Many stories are similar, but your journey still feels uniquely your own. Psalm 23, written by David, reflects the heart of someone who knew rejection, doubt, and danger—yet kept following the Shepherd. Victory didn’t come by going around the valley, but by walking through it with God.

This segment of study explores biblical figures who endured trials and still pressed through. Their stories remind us that in God, we win not by skipping the struggle, but by trusting the Shepherd to lead us through to the other side.

Breakfast Edition Month 2: Lesson 1 – Joseph

The Young Dreamer

Theme: The Art of Through

Background Text: Genesis 37; 39; 41–42

Key Verse: Genesis 42:6 (WEB)

“Joseph’s brothers came, and bowed themselves down to him with their faces to the earth.”

Appetizer – The Dream That Started It All, Gen 37:5–8

⁵Joseph dreamed a dream, and he told it to his brothers, and they hated him all the more. ⁶He said to them, ‘Please hear this dream which I have dreamed: ⁷for behold, we were binding sheaves in the field, and behold, my sheaf arose and also stood upright; and behold, your sheaves came around, and bowed down to my sheaf.’

⁸His brothers said to him, ‘Will you indeed reign over us? Or will you indeed have dominion over us?’ They hated him all the more for his dreams and for his words.”

Joseph saw a glimpse of his future long before anyone else believed it. What God showed him made his brothers jealous and angry, but their feeling didn’t invalidate the fact that dream still came from God.

CST – Called Before You’re Ready

God can give us glimpses of our destiny before others are ready to believe it—or before we fully understand it. Favor can feel lonely when the people closest to you don’t see what God has spoken over your life.

Reflection:

How do you stay humble when God’s favor on your life creates tension with others?

Main Course

Bite 1 — Betrayed but Chosen, Gen 37:18–19, 22a, 28

¹⁸They saw him afar off, and before he came near to them, they conspired against him to kill him. ¹⁹They said to one another, “Behold, this dreamer comes. ²²Reuben said to them, “Shed no blood. Throw him into this pit that is in the wilderness, but lay no hand on him”

²⁸Midianites who were merchants passed by, and they drew and lifted up Joseph out of the pit, and sold Joseph to the Ishmaelites for twenty pieces of silver. They brought Joseph into Egypt.

The very people who should have protected Joseph became the ones who betrayed him—but their evil could not cancel God’s plan.

CST – When Betrayal Becomes a Bridge

Sometimes betrayal doesn’t block your destiny—it pushes you toward it. The pit felt like punishment, but it was really a passageway. What others meant for harm, God was already folding into His larger story of rescue and preservation.

Reflection:

Think of a time when someone’s betrayal or rejection pushed you into a new chapter. How might God have been redirecting you?

Bite 2 — Integrity in the Dark, Gen 39:7–8, 17, 20

⁷After these things, his master’s wife set her eyes on Joseph; and she said, ‘Lie with me.’ ⁸But he refused, and said... ‘How then can I do this great wickedness, and sin against God?’ ¹⁷She spoke to him according to these words, saying, “The Hebrew servant, whom you have brought to us, came in to me to mock me, ²⁰Joseph’s master took him, and put him into the prison, the place where the king’s prisoners were bound, and he was there in custody.

Joseph guarded his character even when no one from home was watching and when compromise might have seemed to make his life easier. His integrity and personal conviction mattered more in the moment than the temptation to be agreeable..

CST – Holiness When No One’s Looking

Holiness means running away from what others explain away. Joseph understood that sin isn’t just breaking rules—it’s breaking God’s heart. He chose obedience over opportunity, even though it cost him his reputation and his freedom.

Reflection:

What guardrails (boundaries, habits, or people) help protect your integrity when temptation keeps coming “day after day”?

Bite 3 — From Prison to Palace, Gen 41:15-16, 37-39

¹⁵ Pharaoh said to Joseph, “I have dreamed a dream, and there is no one who can interpret it. I have heard it said of you, that when you hear a dream you can interpret it.”¹⁶ Joseph answered Pharaoh, saying, ‘It isn’t in me. God will give Pharaoh an answer of peace.’

³⁷ The thing was good in the eyes of Pharaoh, and in the eyes of all his servants. ³⁸ Pharaoh said to his servants, “Can we find such a one as this, a man in whom is the Spirit of God?” ³⁹ Pharaoh said to Joseph, “Because God has shown you all of this, there is no one so discreet and wise as you.

In one day, Joseph went from prisoner to prime minister—but he made sure the glory went to God, not himself. God was preparing Joseph in places people forgot about: the pit and the prison. Those “wasted years” became his training ground in leadership, humility, and dependence on God. When the door finally opened, Joseph was ready—not because he was perfect, but because he stayed faithful.

Reflection:

Where do you feel “hidden” or overlooked right now? How might God be quietly preparing you for your next assignment?

Dessert — Faith Rewarded, Gen 42:5–6

⁵ The sons of Israel came to buy among those who came, for the famine was in the land of Canaan. ⁶ Joseph was the governor over the land. It was he who sold to all the people of the land. Joseph’s brothers came, and bowed themselves down to him with their faces to the earth.

The vision came to pass. His brothers did in fact bow before him, as he served in a position of authority just below Pharaoh. Even though they thought it would be a bad thing, Jehovah Jireh – the God who supplies, used their younger brother to prevent their starvation and preserve their survival! Their rejection of him propelled him into the position of savior for a region.

To-Go Box

- The pit, the prison, and the palace were all part of Joseph’s training, not random pain.
- Betrayal couldn’t block God’s plan; it became the bridge God used to move Joseph into position.
- Integrity in hidden places prepared Joseph to carry influence in public places.
- God’s promotion often comes suddenly, but the preparation is usually slow and silent.
- What God speaks in a dream, He will fulfill in His time—our job is to stay faithful “through,” not just shout about the promise at the start.

Closing Prayer

“Lord God, thank You for the story of Joseph and for reminding us that You are working even when life feels unfair. Help us to trust You in the pit, to walk in integrity when no one is watching, and to stay faithful in seasons where we feel forgotten. Strengthen our faith to believe that Your promises will come to pass in Your perfect timing. In Jesus’ name, amen.”

Reflection Questions

BM2 — Lesson 2: Hannah

Barren but Not Lifeless

 Theme: Prayer in the Pain

 Background Text: 1 Samuel 1–2

 Key Verse: 1 Samuel 1:27 (WEB)

“I prayed for this child, and Yahweh has given me my petition which I asked of him.”

Introduction

Elkanah was a Jewish man with two wives. In that culture, although love was part of why you married, having children was a major factor. Many times, barren women ended up divorced or pushed to the margins of society. Peninnah and Hannah were his wives, but Hannah could not have children.

Have you ever felt like you were “stuck” in someone else’s shadow? Like no matter what you did, the other person always seemed to be one step ahead? That was Hannah’s situation. Year after year, she was humiliated and reminded how much of a “failure” she was as a wife because she could not give Elkanah an heir.

At least her husband loved her, right? It didn’t feel that way. The voice of her tormentor cut deeply, and it seemed as if her prayers were bouncing off the ceiling.

Appetizer – The Weight of Waiting, 1 Sam 1:7–8

“So year by year, when she went up to Yahweh’s house, her rival provoked her; therefore she wept, and didn’t eat. Elkanah her husband said to her, ‘Hannah, why do you weep? Why don’t you eat? Why is your heart grieved? Am I not better to you than ten sons?’”

In Jewish culture, having children is everything. If a man did not have a child, even if he was a scholar, he was not given the same honor. Their cultural and ethnic code weighed heavily on Hannah’s mind. Her husband had every right, culturally, to divorce her and marry someone else. Inheritance and family legacy were tied to children.

In today’s terms, Hannah showed signs of deep depression and grief. She felt that no one around her really understood or could comfort her. She stopped eating, cried endlessly, and felt useless.

If you or someone you know is going through something similar, there is help available. You do not have to battle alone—reach out to your church family, a community counselor, or a trusted friend.

 CST: Desperation can drive determination.

How does persistent prayer reshape hopelessness into hope?

 Main Course

 Bite 1 – Provoked but Persistent, 1 Sam 1:9–11

⁹ So Hannah rose up after they had finished eating and drinking in Shiloh. Now Eli the priest was sitting on his seat by the doorpost of Yahweh’s temple. ¹⁰ She was in bitterness of soul, and prayed to Yahweh, weeping bitterly. ¹¹ She vowed a vow, and said, “Yahweh of Armies, if you will indeed look at the affliction of your servant and remember me, and not forget your servant, but will give to your servant a boy, then I will give him to Yahweh all the days of his life, and no razor shall come on his head.”

What do you do when you are really going through it? Who is the best person to turn to who can truly help? Many times, we go first to people who can listen—but cannot change anything. Hannah’s womb was “lifeless,” but she took her lifelessness to the Living God.

 CST: Pulse Check

Take a moment to write a prayer request—personal or for your family—that you want the Lord to work out.

 Bite 2 – Misunderstood but Heard, 1 Sam 1:12–15

As she continued praying before Yahweh, Eli observed her mouth. Now Hannah spoke in her heart; only her lips moved, but her voice was not heard. Therefore Eli thought she was drunk. Eli said to her, ‘How long will you be drunk? Get rid of your wine!’ Hannah answered, ‘No, my lord, I am a woman of a sorrowful spirit. I have drunk neither wine nor strong drink, but I poured out my soul before Yahweh.’

When you are at your lowest, even “religious” people might misjudge your struggle. But Hannah didn’t let a man’s mistake stop her from talking to her Maker. God hears the prayers that are too deep for words. God is our Promise

Keeper, but sometimes we make promises to Him and then break them. If that has ever happened in your life, be honest with God.

Reflections:

Why is it important that we take these acts seriously? Can you think of examples of when people give or make vows (marriage, baptism, oaths, commitments)?

Bite 3 – Promise Given, Promise Kept, 1 Sam 1:16–18, 20

¹⁶“Don’t consider your servant a wicked woman; for I have been speaking out of the abundance of my complaint and my provocation.” ¹⁷Then Eli answered, “Go in peace; and may the God^[a] of Israel grant your petition that you have asked of him.” ¹⁸She said, “Let your servant find favor in your sight.” So the woman went her way and ate; and her facial expression wasn’t sad any more.

²⁰When the time had come, Hannah conceived, and bore a son; and she named him Samuel,^[a] saying, “Because I have asked him of Yahweh.”

It is OK to correct a false narrative. Allow your virtue and truth to shine even in dark situations. Peace showed up before the answer did. Hannah left her burden at the altar. She didn’t have the baby yet, but she had the “yes” in her spirit. Sometimes God changes your heart before He changes your situation to prove He is your source of joy.

She conceived and gave birth to Samuel, and later brought him back to serve the Lord, just as she had vowed (1 Samuel 1:19–28).

CST: Answered prayer often requires releasing what we prayed for.

Can you trust God enough to give back the blessing He gave you—time, talent, or even a person?

Dessert – The Song of Victory, 1 Sam 2:1–2

“Hannah prayed, and said, ‘My heart exults in Yahweh! My horn is exalted in Yahweh. My mouth is enlarged over my enemies, because I rejoice in your salvation. There is no one as holy as Yahweh, for there is no one besides you, nor is there any rock like our God.’

True praise flows from answered pain. Hannah’s song came from a place of long weeping and finally, breakthrough.

Reflection:

What song has your victory written for you? (It could be an actual song, a testimony, or a phrase you hold onto.)

To-Go Box

Hannah's story proves that barrenness—physical, emotional, or spiritual—is never the final word.

- Faith speaks life into empty places.
 - Honest prayer is better than fake peace.
 - God can give you peace in your heart before the answer shows up in your hands.

Closing Prayer

“Lord, thank You for Hannah’s story and for reminding us that You hear the cries we pray in secret.

Teach us to pour out our hearts honestly before You, to honor the vows we make, and to trust You with both our pain and our promises.

Where we feel barren or empty, speak life.

Where we have been misunderstood, let Your understanding surround us.

And when You answer, help us to give the glory—and even the blessing—back to You.

In Jesus’ name, amen.”

BM2: Lesson 3 – Abram

No Heir, Wait Here

 Theme: Trusting God when the wait is long

 Background Text: Genesis 15:1–6; 16:1–5; 17:1–8

 Key Verse: Genesis 15:6 (WEB)

“He believed in Yahweh, who credited it to him for righteousness.”

Appetizer – Faith Between Promises Gen 15:1–3

¹ After these things Yahweh’s word came to Abram in a vision, saying, ‘Don’t be afraid, Abram. I am your shield, your exceedingly great reward.’ ² Abram said, ‘Lord Yahweh, what will you give me, since I go childless, and he who will inherit my estate is Eliezer of Damascus?’

³ Abram said, ‘Behold, to me you have given no children; and, behold, one born in my house is my heir.’

Many of us know what it feels like to sit between what God said and what we see. Abram had promises, but no child. Blessing was on his life, but barrenness was in his house. Abram didn’t pretend everything was fine—he told God honestly where his heart was: “What good are all these blessings if I don’t have the one thing You promised?”

Main Course

Bite 1 – Count the Stars, Gen 15:4–6

Behold, Yahweh’s word came to him, saying, ‘This man will not be your heir, but he who will come out of your own body will be your heir.’ Yahweh brought him outside, and said, ‘Look now toward the sky, and count the stars, if you are able to count them.’ He said to Abram, ‘So shall your offspring be.’ He believed in Yahweh; and he reckoned it to him for righteousness.

God did not deny Abram’s disappointment; He answered it with a bigger picture. God pulled Abram outside, pointed to the stars, and told him to count the uncountable.

 CST: Faith is often proven in the unseen.

When sight fades, trust sharpens. God asked Abram to believe a promise that his eyes could not yet verify, and heaven called that belief “righteousness.”

Reflection:

What “stars” is God asking you to look at and believe for—even when your current situation says the opposite?

Bite 2 – When We Try to “Help” God, Gen 16:1–4

¹ Now Sarai, Abram’s wife, bore him no children. She had a servant, an Egyptian, whose name was Hagar.

² Sarai said to Abram, ‘See now, Yahweh has restrained me from bearing. Please go in to my servant. It may be that I will obtain children by her.’ Abram listened to the voice of Sarai.

³ After Abram had lived ten years in the land of Canaan, Sarai took Hagar the Egyptian, her servant, and gave her to Abram her husband to be his wife. ⁴ He went to Hagar, and she conceived. When she saw that she had conceived, her mistress was despised in her eyes.

Sarai and Abram reached a breaking point in the waiting and decided to “help” God. Their plan produced a child—but also tension, comparison, and conflict. Waiting is not always easy but oftentimes required.

When we rush what God promised to perfect, we create situations He never asked us to manage. Grace can redeem our detours, but consequences are still real.

Reflection:

Where are you most tempted to “fix it yourself” instead of waiting on God’s way and God’s time?

Bite 3 – Name Changed, Same Promise, Gen 17:1–5, 7

¹ When Abram was ninety-nine years old, Yahweh appeared to Abram and said to him, ‘I am God Almighty. Walk before me, and be blameless. ² I will make my covenant between me and you, and will multiply you exceedingly.’ ³ Abram fell on his face. God talked with him, saying, ⁴ ‘As for me, behold, my covenant is with you. You will be the father of a multitude of nations.

⁵ Your name will no longer be called Abram, but your name will be Abraham; for I have made you the father of a multitude of nations. ⁷ I will establish my covenant between me and you and your offspring after you throughout their generations for an everlasting covenant...’

God revisited Abram years later—not to cancel the promise, but to expand it and attach it to a covenant. He also changed Abram’s name to Abraham to match what heaven already saw.

He renames us to remind us of who we are becoming, not what we’ve been. Abraham had to learn to answer to a name that sounded like the promise before the promise fully showed up.

Reflection:

Is there an area where God is calling you to think, speak, or walk according to His promise—before you see it?

Dessert – Faith Rewarded Through Time, Rom 4:20–21

²⁰ Yet, looking to the promise of God, he didn’t waver through unbelief, but grew strong through faith, giving glory to God, ²¹ and being fully assured that what he had promised, he was also able to perform.

Abraham’s story says:

1. Real faith is honest enough to ask hard questions.
2. Real faith can still stumble, but God picks it back up.
3. God’s timing is perfect, even when it feels “late.”

Reflection:

God doesn’t forget; He fulfills. Abraham’s faith grew stronger over time, even while the promise seemed delayed.

How can you glorify God while you’re still waiting for your “Isaac” to come forth?

To-Go Box

- Faith is not just belief—it’s endurance through delay.
- Questioning God honestly doesn’t disqualify you; staying stuck in unbelief does.
- Human shortcuts (like Hagar) may seem faster, but they complicate what God intended to be clean.
- When God reaffirms His promise, He often calls you by a new name or identity that lines up with your future.
- God’s timeline is not denial; it’s divine alignment.

Word Study

- Abram – “Exalted Father”
- Abraham – “Father of Many Nations”
- El Shaddai – “God Almighty,” the all-sufficient One who sustains, provides, and fulfills His promises.

Closing Prayer

“God Almighty, El Shaddai, thank you for being faithful even when my faith feels small. Teach me to wait on Your timing instead of forcing my own solutions. Help me to believe Your promises when I can’t yet see the evidence.

Rename the places in my life that still sound like doubt and align my identity with what You have spoken. Make me fully assured that what You have promised, You are also able to perform. In Jesus’ name, amen.”

Activity – True or False: Trust the Timeline

1. Abram’s faith never wavered from the start.
☐ True ☐ False
2. Sarai suggested a human solution to a divine promise.
☐ True ☐ False
3. God changed Abram’s name after he demonstrated obedience.
☐ True ☐ False
4. Hagar’s son was the covenant child.
☐ True ☐ False
5. God’s timing tests faith before fulfilling it.

✚ BM2 — Lesson 4: Chronic Conditions

🔴 Victory Through the Blood

📖 Theme: Faith That Heals

📖 Background Text: Luke 8:42b–48

🔑 Key Verse: Luke 8:48 (WEB)

He said to her, ‘Daughter, cheer up. Your faith has made you well. Go in peace.’

✨ Author’s Foreword (Intro/Reflection Setup)

“Unclean, Unclean, Unclean!”

In the Jewish law, as depicted in the Pentateuch, many illnesses and conditions could make a person “unclean.” Those labeled unclean could not enter the temple, attend gatherings, or move freely in the community. Some were restricted to their homes or pushed outside normal society. They had to announce their condition whenever they came near people.

Imagine living in a world where you had to brandish your “dirty secret” like the old Scarlet Letter—exposed, ashamed, and isolated.

Now imagine carrying that weight not for a few days, but for twelve years.

🍞 Appetizer – Twelve Years of Pain, Luke 8:42b–43a

“...But as he went, the multitudes pressed against him. ⁴³ A woman who had a flow of blood for twelve years...”

She had spent everything she had on physicians. No one could help her. Her body was weak, her money was gone, and her hope was hanging by a thread.

You’ve tried every YouTube remedy, every social media hack, every doctor, every urgent care, every “miracle” treatment and payment plan... and still no solution. Your resources are drained, and the situation hasn’t changed. That was the woman’s reality.

Imagine having a condition that silently drains you from the inside for over a decade. No clear answers. No lasting relief. Just ongoing pain, shame, and exhaustion.

Reflection:

Have you ever been in a season where you tried everything but still had to rely on faith for breakthrough?

Main Course – Faith That Reaches Out

Bite 1 – A Desperate Touch, Luke 8:43b–44

“...who had spent all her living on physicians and could not be healed by any, came behind him and touched the fringe of his cloak. Immediately the flow of her blood stopped.”

If you’ve ever been to a concert of a popular person, you know how thick the crowd is to just get close to the stage. ...She didn’t ask for the microphone, or a front-row seat, or a special audience. She just wanted to get close enough to touch Jesus—close enough to reach for the One everyone else was only crowding around.

Well, Jesus was on his way to heal a sick child, when she reached for the hem in a “risk-it-all” move. She wasn’t even supposed to be there.

Faith is often a desperate reach toward Jesus when you have nothing left to lose. Her faith pulled power directly from the Source, and that was the difference between the people who were there just to be there and a woman you refused to be denied wholeness (or a cure).

Thought:

How hard would it be to get close enough to touch a world leader or celebrity? Yet this woman pushed through every barrier—cultural, physical, emotional—to reach the King of kings.

Reflection:

Where in your life do you need that same “pressing through” kind of faith?

Bite 2 – “Who Touched Me?” Luke 8:45–47

⁴⁵ Jesus said, ‘Who touched me?’ When all denied it, Peter and those with him said, ‘Master, the multitudes press and jostle you, and you say, ‘Who touched me?’ ’ ⁴⁶ But Jesus said, ‘Someone did touch me, for I perceived that power has gone out of me.’ ⁴⁷ When the woman saw that she was not hidden, she came trembling, and falling down before him declared to him in the presence of all the people the reason why she had touched him, and how she was healed immediately.”

The crowd was pressing against Jesus, but only one touch drew power. Proximity is not the same as faith. Many bumped into Him, but only one believed Him for change for the issue that ailed her life.

CST:

Jesus felt the pull of faith. Power responded not to casual contact but to intentional belief. When the Holy Spirit meets genuine faith, something always shifts.

Reflection:

Recall a time when you had to “touch heaven”—a situation that drove you to seek God’s power above all else. What was happening, and how did that season change you?

Bite 3 – New Name, New Peace, Luke 8:48

He said to her, ‘Daughter, cheer up. Your faith has made you well. Go in peace.’

One sentence changed everything—her health, her status, and her identity. She was no longer “unclean woman”; she was Daughter.

Author’s Commentary

Her long struggle ended with a single word of affirmation from Jesus. When He calls you Daughter or Son, He doesn’t just fix your issue—He restores your place in the family. The Woman with the Issue of Blood is a story that many can relate to you having a problem and unfortunately making God or prayer your “last resort”, it’s like the dreaded red button under the glass that you do NOT want to push! Push - Pray Until Something Happens - let your faith connect with the Word and power of God. Nobody is saying don’t go to the doctor, but the message is about bringing your faith to the doctor’s office and bring your ISSUES to the altar.

So many of us have suffered in things for a long while, and Jesus is waiting on us to do our part and trust him with it. Break through the doubt, press through the challenges and arrive at the hem of God and the spiritual connection to the healing that was released when our Savior was tied and hung on a tree. Through an long term unclean messed up, messy situation - though her blood was filthy his Blood is cleansing and through it there is victory to everyone who is willing to accept all the benefits of being redeemed, hallelujah!

Dessert – Push Through the Crowd

Sometimes our faith becomes the “last resort,” but God invites us to make it our first response. The woman could have stayed home, stayed hidden, stayed hopeless—but she chose to move.

Like her, we are called to:

- Push through doubt.
- Push through fear.
- Push through shame.
- Push through the noise of the crowd...

...until we reach the hem of His garment.

Reflection:

What crowd—voices, opinions, fears, distractions—do you need to push through right now to get closer to Jesus?

To-Go Box

Her blood made her unclean.

His blood made her whole.

Through Christ’s sacrifice:

- We are redeemed, not rejected.
- We are restored, not ruined.
- We are cleansed, not canceled.
- No matter how long the struggle has lasted, victory is still possible through His blood.

Carry this with you:

When you reach for Jesus in faith, He always has more healing than you have hurt.

Prayer

“Lord Jesus, Thank You that Your blood still heals, restores, and makes us whole. Thank You for seeing us when we feel unseen, and for calling us ‘Daughter’ and ‘Son’ when the world calls us ‘unclean.’

Give us the courage to press through every crowd of fear, shame, or doubt to reach You. Teach us to make faith our first response, not our last resort. Where we are bleeding in our bodies, minds, or hearts, let Your healing power flow.

Fill us with Your peace as we walk forward in faith.

In Your mighty name, amen.”
